3 Reload while turning, and make another run in the opposite direction

(Gather up ample speed!!)

1 Begin a 270-degree turn in either direction

2 Once you've entered Chain-Shot range, aim and fire some Chain-Shot

4 At the end of the maneuver, decide whether you need to lose or gain distance, then return to step 2 in the pattern. If you turn upwind, make sure you're not too slow.

THE CHAIN SHOT LOOP

Schematic not to scale

This is just one way to do this maneuver, you can of course turn it "upside down", making the same maneuver with a starting right-turn, and all the directions are then equally reversed.

Wind

Right

Wrong

If the enemy turned the "Wrong" way, simply change the lengths of "X" and "Y" to avoid drifting away from him
